

Marlborough Sounds adventure trip turns to horror

Lois Cairns and Belinda McCammon

February 06, 2011, • 06:00am

Share

FLOWN TO HOSPITAL: An injured passenger from one of the two boats involved in a Marlborough Sounds collision is loaded aboard the Westpac Rescue helicopter to be flown to Wellington Hospital.
CLAYTON MORGAN

An afternoon on the water turned into a horror experience for students on an Outboard Bound cutter after it collided with a dolphin watch catamaran in the Marlborough Sounds and began sinking yesterday afternoon.

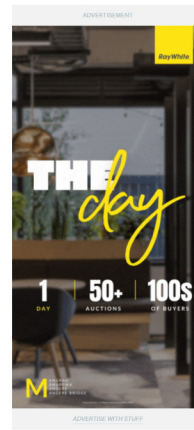

One student, from Whangarei, sustained a broken leg. Seven others had moderate injuries.

Other boaties raced to pluck the students from their fast-sinking vessel. All aboard the cutter were wearing lifejackets.

RESCUE WORK: One of the boats involved in the Marlborough Sounds collisions is lifted onto a barge.
CLAYTON MORGAN

A dolphin watch passenger, Alison Kelso, from Nelson, said the catamaran was about 20 minutes out of Picton heading toward Motuara Island in the Queen Charlotte Sound when the boats collided about 2.30pm. She was standing on deck, facing Picton, when she felt a huge thud in her back.

RESCUE WORK: One of the boats involved in the Marlborough Sounds collisions is lifted onto a barge.
CLAYTON MORGAN

A dolphin watch passenger, Alison Kelso, from Nelson, said the catamaran was about 20 minutes out of Picton heading toward Motuara Island in the Queen Charlotte Sound when the boats collided about 2.30pm. She was standing on deck, facing Picton, when she felt a huge thud in her back.

ADVERTISEMENT

Christmas Sale

200pcs Christmas Window Clings

NZ$0.94

New app users only

TEMU

Temu

Shop Now

ADVERTISEMENT WITH STUFF

She told the Marlborough Express two children were thrown on to the deck and there were people screaming everywhere.

A police spokesman said the students, who were paddling near Wedge Point, saw the Dolphin Watch Ecotours boat approaching and tried to alert the skipper they were on a collision course but to no avail. The catamaran rammed into their boat, throwing the students into the water.

HIT: People from an Outward Bound Cutter boat in the water near Picton Harbour after being hit by a Dolphin Watch boat.
ALISON KIELSO

They were plucked to safety and ferried to Picton by a boat from nearby Lochmara Lodge and by the dolphin watch boat. None of the 14 passengers and four crew aboard the 13m-long dolphin watch boat were injured.

Picton Harbourmaster Dave Hoskins said conditions on the water had been good and police and the Maritime Safety Authority would be investigating how the vessels collided.

Outward Bound chief executive Trevor Taylor said he was still trying to piece together what happened but the cutter involved in the collision had sunk. All 12 students were safe and families were being contacted.

The students had started their 21-day course on January 31.

Glen McNeilly, one of the directors of Dolphin Watch Ecotours, said he did not know why the skipper of his boat, who was very experienced, had not seen the cutter. He had been stood down pending the outcome of an investigation.

AD

Christmas Sale

200pcs Christmas Window Clings

NZ$0.94

New app users only

TEMU

Grand Opening Sale

Everyone's shopping, but when you use Temu you're saving.

Shop Now

ADVERTISEMENT

Christmas Sale

200pcs Christmas Window Clings

NZ$0.94

New app users only

TEMU

Temu

Shop Now

ADVERTISEMENT WITH STUFF

The skipper involved in yesterday's incident was not the one in charge of the Dolphin Watch boat when an Australian tourist was injured by a propeller in December. That skipper had been fired.

McNeilly said the collision had left a gaping big hole in the front of the catamaran and it would be out of action for some time.

Two students were flown by Westpac Rescue Helicopter to Wellington Hospital, the one with a broken leg and another, also from Whangarei, with a suspected broken ankle that turned out to be sprained. The others injured – three men and three women – were taken to Blenheim's Wairau Hospital by ambulance.

A hospital spokesman said four had been treated and discharged.

- Sunday Star Times

Share

Support Stuff's journalism today

Donate now →

$

ADVERTISEMENT

TRADE DEPOT

SPECIAL BUYS

$750

$65

$20

$39

$35

$19

5 of 5

Join Special Buys

ADVERTISEMENT WITH STUFF

homed LOCAL PROPERTY SPOTLIGHT

Auckland - Cen

GOODWIN'S

Stylish, Modern Executive Family Living

14A Stanley Point Road, Stanley Point, North Shore City

Brendan Goodwin

GOODWIN'S

Sought After Family Home in Epsom's Ideal Location

11 Golf Road, Epsom, Auckland City

Brendan Goodwin

GOODWIN'S

1930's Art Deco Classic

5/101 College Hill, Freemans Bay, Auckland City

Brendan Goodwin

GOODWIN'S

39 Year of Home Coming to an End

66 Court Cresc Auckland

Pat Lapala

LICENSED UNDER REAA 2008

Sought After Family Home in Epsom's Ideal Location

5/101 College Hill, Freemans Bay, Auckland City

Brendan Goodwin

1930's Art Deco Classic

5/101 College Hill, Freemans Bay, Auckland City

Brendan Goodwin

39 Year of Home Ownership Coming to an End

66 Court Crescent, Parnum, Auckland

Pat Lapala

Final Weekend Site

66 Halsesown Eden, Auckland

Ronald

LICENSED UNDER REAA 2008

Stuff Shorts

NEW

NEW

NEW

NEW

NEW

More from Stuff

Live: Heavy rain possible for central North Island

Road test: Escaping the big smoke in the Mazda CX-60 Hybrid

Jury says Donald Trump must pay an additional $137m to s. Jean Carroll in defamation case

Police say a woman who was last seen in the Marlborough Sounds on Monday night is still missing.

Painter goes rogue at roundabout in holiday hotspot, and the town is divided

Man charged after allegedly stabbing supermarket security guard

A needle in a haystack: Mother of Kiwi woman missing in Miami speaks out

more from stuff

ADVERTISEMENT

How to make the most of your savings

Father of woman murdered by her Kiwi ex speaks out

paid content

ADVERTISEMENT

New pergolas do not Perigol Search Ad

watch more

Auckland: Unsold Foreclosed Homes Search Ads

watch more

Unsold 2024 Antarctica Cruise Cabins Now At Sponsored links

ADVERTISEMENT

ADVERTISEMENT WITH STUFF

Subscribe for digital access

Support Stuff's journalism

Breaking news? Send your photos, videos and tips to newsinfo@stuff.co.nz

Contact us Advertising Careers

log in Sign up

Editorial code Privacy policy Terms & conditions Cookies policy

© 2024 Stuff Limited